Susan G. Komen Hawaii

Since inception in 1982 Komen has become the world’s largest breast cancer organization and has funded more than $920 million in research and provided more than $2 billion in funding to screening, education, treatment and psychosocial support programs serving millions of people in the U.S. and more than 30 countries worldwide.

More than 40,000 women will lose their lives to breast cancer in the U.S. alone this year. It’s time to change the number and Susan G. Komen has set a Bold Goal to do so, complemented by a new movement that celebrates those who have made progress possible over our first 34 years. Komen’s recently announced Bold Goal aims to reduce the current number of breast cancer deaths in the U.S. by 50 percent in the next decade. We are now rallying supporters to take the extra step – make a bigger, bolder impact and be “More Than Pink.”

Susan G. Komen Hawaii
To date, Susan G. Komen Hawaii has funded over $4 million for breast health and breast cancer education, screening and treatment throughout the State of Hawaii. Up to 75% of net funds raised from the Race and other fundraising events support local agencies and hospitals that provide breast education and breast health services. No less than 25% of net funds raised support breast cancer research.

Our History
The first Komen Hawaii Race for the Cure was held in 1995 with just 800 runners. We are now about to celebrate our 23rd annual Komen Hawaii Race for the Cure® and estimate that more than 5000 runners or walkers will participate again this year.
Who is Susan G. Komen?
Susan G. Komen fought breast cancer with her heart, body and soul. Throughout her diagnosis, treatments, and endless days in the hospital, she spent her time thinking of ways to make life better for other women battling breast cancer, instead of worrying about her own situation.

Moved by Susan’s compassion for others and commitment to making a difference, Nancy G. Brinker promised her sister that she would do everything in her power to end breast cancer. Though Susan lost her battle with the disease, her legacy lives on through the work of Susan G. Komen Affiliates and the organization Nancy started in her honor that is now the global leader of the breast cancer movement. Komen’s mission is to save lives by meeting the most critical needs in our communities and investing in breakthrough research to prevent and cure breast cancer.
Susan G. Komen Hawaii honors Darlena Chadwick for her unwavering commitment to the survivorship of cancer patients and the indelible impact she has made on facilitating advances in cancer treatment and research.

Darlena Chadwick was hired as Vice President of Patient Care at The Queens Medical Center in November 2005 and was responsible for Oncology, Women’s Health, and Professional Services. She has since moved to a leadership role within The Queen’s Health Systems (Queen’s Punchbowl, Queen’s West Oahu, North Hawaii Community Hospital, & Molokai General Hospital) and has added Neuroscience, Pharmacy, and Gastroenterology Services.

She served concurrently as the Chief Operating Officer for the Hawaii Cancer Consortium, and the University of Hawaii Cancer Center for a year and a half. Mrs. Chadwick was the Executive Director of the Oncology Service Line at Hawaii Pacific Health from 2003 - 2005, overseeing Oncology Services across the four hospital system. She also worked at Kuakini Health System from 1999 - 2003 holding the positions of oncology nurse, nursing supervisor, manager of Endoscopy, and Managing Director of Diagnostic and Treatment Services.

She is a fellow with the American College of Healthcare Executives (FACHE) and she is currently on the board of the Queen’s Development Corporation, the Past President of the American College of Healthcare Executives (ACHE) Hawaii-Chapter Board, a non-voting member of The Hawaii Cancer Consortium Board, a member of Hamamatsu/QMC Joint Venture Board of Directors, and past treasurer of the Kumulani Residential Board. She was the past Chairman of the Hawaii Comprehensive Cancer Control Coalition for the State of Hawaii and she serves on the advisory board of the Hawaii Children’s Cancer Foundation. She is a board trustee for St. Andrew’s Schools, and has also served on the Susan G. Komen Hawaii board.

Prior to coming to Hawaii, Mrs. Chadwick spent over 11 years as active duty in the United States Air Force and four years in the Air Force Reserves.
